

Write a summary of what you've learned. Be sure to include:

- the range of active learning strategies you studied;
- the benefits and challenges of planning for active learning;
- how promoting active learning can increase students' engagement with material, long-term retention, and understanding; and
- how you might incorporate elements of active learning into your practice.